

Document

Five years he lived with a shaggy dog.

Beat the dust from the rug onto the lawn.

The pipe began to rust while new.

It is late morning on the old wall clock.

Mud was spattered on the front of his white shirt.

The swan dive was far short of perfect.

Slide the box into that empty space.

The sand drifts over the sill of the old house.

The zones merge in the central part of town.

The rise to fame of a person takes luck.

Nine men were hired to dig the ruins.

The grass curled around the fence post.

The dry wax protects the deep scratch.

A man in a blue sweater sat at the desk.

The bloom of the rose lasts a few days.

The beam dropped down on the workmen's head.

The large house had hot water taps.

Cap the jar with a tight brass cover.

It is hard to erase blue or red ink.

The hogs were fed chopped corn and garbage.

The gold vase is both rare and costly.

A sullen smile gets few friends.

Beef is scarcer than some lamb.

The square wooden crate was packed to be shipped.